RADIO ADDRESS BY THE PRESIDENT
TO THE NATION

THE PRESIDENT: Good morning. Today I want to update Americans on our global campaign against terror. The United States is presenting a clear choice to every nation: Stand with the civilized world, or stand with the terrorists.
And for those nations that stand with the terrorists, there will be a heavy price.

America is determined to oppose the state sponsors of terror. Yet we are equally determined to respect and help the men and women those regimes oppress.
Our enemy is not the Arab world. Many friendly Arab governments are, themselves, the targets of extremist terror. Our enemy is not Islam, a good and peace-loving faith, that brings direction and comfort to over one billion people, including millions of Americans. And our enemy is not the people of any nation, even when their leaders harbor terrorists. Our enemy is the terrorists themselves, and the regimes that shelter and sustain them.

Afghanistan is a case in point. Its Taliban regime has made that nation into a sanctuary and training ground for international terrorists -- terrorists who have killed innocent citizens of many nations, including our own. The Taliban promotes terror abroad, and practices terror against its people, oppressing women and persecuting all who dissent.

The Taliban has been given the opportunity to surrender all the terrorists in Afghanistan and to close down their camps and operations. Full warning has been given, and time is running out.

The Afghan people, however, are the victims of oppression, famine and misrule. Many refugees from that unfortunate nation are on the move, and sadly, many Afghans are on the verge of starvation.

America respects the Afghan people, their long tradition and their proud independence. And we will help them in this time of confusion and crisis in their country.

America has long been the largest source of food and humanitarian assistance to Afghanistan. This week I announced an additional $320 million in aid to the Afghan people, to those within Afghanistan and those who have fled across borders. Despite efforts by the Taliban to disrupt these critical aid shipments, we will deliver food and seeds, vaccines and medicines by truck, and even by draft animals. Conditions permitting, we will bring help directly to the people of Afghanistan by air drops.

This aid will help Afghans make it through the upcoming winter. For the longer-term, I urge Congress to make funds available so that one day the United States can contribute, along with other friends of Afghanistan, to the reconstruction and development of that troubled nation.

Helping people in great need is a central part of the Jewish, Christian and Islamic traditions, as well as many other faiths. It is also a central part of the American tradition. Even as we fight evil regimes we are generous to the people they oppress. Following World War II, America fed and rebuilt Japan and Germany, and their people became some of our closest friends in the world.

In the struggle ahead, we will act in accordance with American ideals.
We're offering help and friendship to the Afghan people. It is their Taliban rulers, and the terrorists they harbor, who have much to fear.

Thank you for listening.

END

RADIO ADDRESS BY THE PRESIDENT
TO THE NATION

THE PRESIDENT: Good morning. Today I want to update Americans on our global campaign against terror. The United States is presenting a clear choice to every nation: Stand with the civilized world, or stand with the terrorists.
And for those nations that stand with the terrorists, there will be a heavy price.

America is determined to oppose the state sponsors of terror. Yet we are equally determined to respect and help the men and women those regimes oppress.
Our enemy is not the Arab world. Many friendly Arab governments are, themselves, the targets of extremist terror. Our enemy is not Islam, a good and peace-loving faith, that brings direction and comfort to over one billion people, including millions of Americans. And our enemy is not the people of any nation, even when their leaders harbor terrorists. Our enemy is the terrorists themselves, and the regimes that shelter and sustain them.

Afghanistan is a case in point. Its Taliban regime has made that nation into a sanctuary and training ground for international terrorists -- terrorists who have killed innocent citizens of many nations, including our own. The Taliban promotes terror abroad, and practices terror against its people, oppressing women and persecuting all who dissent.

The Taliban has been given the opportunity to surrender all the terrorists in Afghanistan and to close down their camps and operations. Full warning has been given, and time is running out.

The Afghan people, however, are the victims of oppression, famine and misrule. Many refugees from that unfortunate nation are on the move, and sadly, many Afghans are on the verge of starvation.

America respects the Afghan people, their long tradition and their proud independence. And we will help them in this time of confusion and crisis in their country.

America has long been the largest source of food and humanitarian assistance to Afghanistan. This week I announced an additional $320 million in aid to the Afghan people, to those within Afghanistan and those who have fled across borders. Despite efforts by the Taliban to disrupt these critical aid shipments, we will deliver food and seeds, vaccines and medicines by truck, and even by draft animals. Conditions permitting, we will bring help directly to the people of Afghanistan by air drops.

This aid will help Afghans make it through the upcoming winter. For the longer-term, I urge Congress to make funds available so that one day the United States can contribute, along with other friends of Afghanistan, to the reconstruction and development of that troubled nation.

Helping people in great need is a central part of the Jewish, Christian and Islamic traditions, as well as many other faiths. It is also a central part of the American tradition. Even as we fight evil regimes we are generous to the people they oppress. Following World War II, America fed and rebuilt Japan and Germany, and their people became some of our closest friends in the world.

In the struggle ahead, we will act in accordance with American ideals.
We're offering help and friendship to the Afghan people. It is their Taliban rulers, and the terrorists they harbor, who have much to fear.

Thank you for listening.

All,

For your viewing pleasure, enclosed are current versions of the House and Senate Bills, a revised draft side-by-side analysis of the bills by DoJ, and a side-by-side analysis of the immigration provisions by George Fishman of House Judiciary. Please note that we have structured the DoJ chart based on the numeration in the Senate version of the bill for convenience only; the structure reflects no prejudice or preference of the Administration for either bill. Have a good evening, and happy Columbus Day.

Compensation applies only to pen/trap amendments	160	House bill provision would apply to services. The Senate bill has a second sentence (redundant with current law) that assures providers reasonable compensation. Technical: The Senate bill does not include "services" in the first sentence, and the second sentence is not present in the House bill.

803, 809	(1) Amends list of terrorism crimes in 18 USC 2332b(g)(5)(B) – adds some but deletes or restricts others. (2) Makes conforming amendment to 2332b(f) to avoid reduction of A.G.'s primary investigative jurisdiction. (3) Adds definition of "domestic terrorism" to 18 USC 2331 and makes conforming change in existing definition of "international terrorism."	309	(1) Creates new 18 USC 25 defining "Federal terrorism offense," including terrorist motivation requirement in 25(1), and offense list in 25(2)-(5). (2) Substitutes "Federal terrorism offense" as defined in the new section 25 for the existing offense list in 18 USC 2332b(g)(5). (This affects the A.G.'s primary investigative jurisdiction under 2332b(f).) (3) Terrorism definitions differ – House definition of "domestic terrorism" includes apparent effect (not just intent).
804	Creates new harboring offense where perpetrator knows or has reasonable grounds to believe that the person harbored has committed or is about to commit an offense in a short list of highly serious terrorism crimes. Includes venue provision.	307	Creates harboring offense where perpetrator knows that the person harbored has committed or is about to commit an offense in the 25(2) list of terrorism crimes. (The provisions says "section 25(2) or this title," which would cover all title 18 offenses; presumably this is a drafting error and the intended reference is just the 25(2) offenses.) Includes explicit extraterritoriality and venue provisions.
805	Includes in special maritime and territorial jurisdiction offenses in U.S. foreign missions and related residences, committed by or against U.S. nationals. Excludes offenses by persons covered under 18 USC 3261(a) (which provides	355	Senate provision broader regarding coverage of buildings and lands associated with the missions.

	separate extraterritorial provision for persons accompanying the armed forces).
806	In material support of terrorists offense: (1) deletes "within the U.S." restriction, (2) adds some additional predicate offenses, (3) adds venue for prosecution in district of underlying offense, (4) adds "monetary instruments" and "expert advice or assistance" as types of prohibited support. Also, adds material support of foreign terrorist organizations as money laundering predicate.	306, 402	Does not delete "within the U. S." restriction. Amends material support predicates to be "any Federal terrorism offense" (as defined in section 309(a)) and all terrorism crimes in 25(2) list. Same as Senate bill on venue, "monetary instruments," "expert advice or assistance," and money laundering predicates.
806(a)(1)(A)	Strikes restriction of scope of the material support of terrorists offense to acts within the United States	354	General provision providing extraterritorial jurisdiction over any "Federal terrorism offense" (as defined in section 309(a)) or offense under the terrorism chapter of title 18.
806(b) (and also sections 809 and 814)	Makes 18 U.S.C. § 2339B a specified unlawful activity for money laundering offenses. Section 806(b) does this the same way as section 401 of the House bill; however, section 806(b) is redundant in the Senate bill because 809 accomplishes the same result by adding 18 U.S.C. § 2339B to 18 U.S.C. §2332b(g)(5)(B) which section 814 incorporates into 18 U.S.C. § 1961(1), all	401	House bill specifically adds 18 U.S.C.§2339B (material support to foreign terrorist organizations) as a new specified unlawful activity (SUA) for money laundering offenses at 18 U.S.C. § 1956(c)(7)(D) of whose offenses are specified unlawful activities (SUAs) for money laundering under to 18 U.S.C. § 1956(c)(7)(A).

807	Amends 18 U.S.C. §981(a)(1) to provide civil forfeiture of assets involved with terrorism.	403	Same
808	Technical clarification avoiding conflict of Trade Sanctions Reform and Export Enhancement Act of 2000 with 18 U.S.C. §§ 2339A and 2339B.	404	Same
810	No limitation period for prosecution of terrorism crimes involving occurrence or foreseeable risk of death or serious injury.	301	No limitation period for prosecution of any "Federal terrorism offense" (as defined in section 309(a)) or for any offense in a list of major terrorism crimes. 15 year limitation period for prosecution of offenses in a list of lesser terrorism crimes.
811	Amends statutes defining various terrorism crimes to provide base maximum prison terms of at least 15 or 20 years, and up to life imprisonment were death results.	302	Authorizes imprisonment up to life for person convicted of any "Federal terrorism offense" (as defined in section 309(a)).
812	Amends statutes defining various terrorism crimes to add conspiracy language and provide increased conspiracy penalties.	303	Enacts general attempt and conspiracy provisions applicable to "Federal terrorism offense[s]" and to offenses listed in new 18 USC 25(2). (See section 309(a) of bill.) For the covered offenses, this consistently equalizes attempt and conspiracy penalties to the penalties for the object offense.

TITLE III—INTERNATIONAL MONEY LAUNDERING ABATEMENT AND ANTI-TERRORIST FINANCING ACT OF 2001.

SEC. 301. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the "International Money Laundering Abatement and Anti-Terrorist Financing Act of 2001".

SEC. 302. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

(1) money laundering, estimated by the International Monetary Fund to amount to between 2 and 5 percent of global gross domestic product, which is at least $600,000,000,000 annually, provides the financial fuel that permits transnational criminal enterprises to conduct and expand their operations to the detriment of the safety and security of American citizens;

(2) money laundering, and the defects in financial transparency on which money launderers rely, are critical to the financing of global terrorism and the provision of funds for terrorist attacks;

(3) money launderers subvert legitimate financial mechanisms and banking relationships by using them as protective covering for the movement of criminal proceeds and the financing of crime and terrorism, and, by so doing, can threaten the safety of United States citizens and undermine the integrity of United States financial institutions and of the global financial and trading systems upon which prosperity and growth depend;

(4) certain jurisdictions outside of the United States that offer ''offshore'' banking and related facilities designed to provide anonymity, coupled with special tax advantages and weak financial supervisory and enforcement regimes, provide essential tools to disguise ownership and movement of criminal funds, derived from, or used to commit, offenses ranging from narcotics trafficking, terrorism, arms smuggling, and trafficking in human beings, to financial frauds that prey on law-abiding citizens;

(5) transactions involving such offshore jurisdictions make it difficult for law enforcement officials and regulators to follow the trail of money earned by criminals, organized international criminal enterprises, and global terrorist organizations;

(6) correspondent banking facilities are one of the banking mechanisms susceptible in some circumstances to manipulation by foreign banks to permit the laundering of funds by hiding the identity of real parties in interest to financial transactions;

(7) private banking services can be susceptible to manipulation by money launderers, for example corrupt foreign government officials, particularly if those services include the creation of offshore accounts and facilities for large personal funds transfers to channel funds into accounts around the globe;

(8) United States anti-money laundering efforts are impeded by outmoded and inadequate statutory provisions that make investigations, prosecutions, and forfeitures more difficult, particularly in cases in which money laundering involves foreign persons, foreign banks, or foreign countries;

(9) the ability to mount effective counter-measures to international money launderers requires national, as well as bilateral and multilateral action, using tools specially designed for that effort; and

(10) the Basle Committee on Banking Regulation and Supervisory Practices and the Financial Action Task Force on Money Laundering, of both of which the United States is a member, have each adopted international anti-money laundering principles and recommendations.

(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this title are—

(1) to increase the strength of United States measures to prevent, detect, and prosecute international money laundering and the financing of terrorism;

(2) to ensure that—

(A) banking transactions and financial relationships and the conduct of such transactions and relationships, do not contravene the purposes of subchapter II of chapter 53 of title 31, United States Code, section 21 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, or chapter 2 of title I of Public Law 91–508 (84 Stat. 1116), or facilitate the evasion of any such provision; and

(B) the purposes of such provisions of law continue to be fulfilled, and that such provisions of law are effectively and efficiently administered;

(3) to strengthen the provisions put into place by the Money Laundering Control Act of 1986 (18 U.S.C. 981 note), especially with respect to crimes by non-United States nationals and foreign financial institutions;

(4) to provide a clear national mandate for subjecting to special scrutiny those foreign jurisdictions, financial institutions operating outside of the United States, and classes of international transactions that pose particular, identifiable opportunities for criminal abuse;

(5) to provide the Secretary of the Treasury (in this title referred to as the "Secretary") with broad discretion, subject to the safeguards provided by the Administrative Procedures Act under title 5, United States Code, to take measures tailored to the particular money laundering problems presented by specific foreign jurisdictions, financial institutions operating outside of the United States, and classes of international transactions;

(6) to ensure that the employment of such measures by the Secretary permits appropriate opportunity for comment by affected financial institutions;

(7) to provide guidance to domestic financial institutions on particular foreign jurisdictions, financial institutions operating outside of the United States, and classes of international transactions that are of primary money laundering concern to the United States Government;

(8) to ensure that the forfeiture of any assets in connection with the anti-terrorist efforts of the United States permits for adequate challenge consistent with providing due process rights;

(9) to clarify the terms of the safe harbor from civil liability for filing suspicious activity reports;

(10) to strengthen the authority of the Secretary to issue and administer geographic targeting orders, and to clarify that violations of such orders or any other requirement imposed under the authority contained in chapter 2 of title I of Public Law 91–508 and subchapters II and III of chapter 53 of title 31, United States Code, may result in criminal and civil penalties;

(11) to ensure that all appropriate elements of the financial services industry are subject to appropriate requirements to report potential money laundering transactions to proper authorities, and that jurisdictional disputes do not hinder examination of compliance by financial institutions with relevant reporting requirements;

(12) to fix responsibility for high level coordination of the anti-money laundering efforts of the Department of the Treasury;

(13) to strengthen the ability of financial institutions to maintain the integrity of their employee population; and

(14) to strengthen measures to prevent the use of the United States financial system for personal gain by corrupt foreign officials and to facilitate the repatriation of any stolen assets to the citizens of countries to whom such assets belong.

SEC. 342. USE OF AUTHORITY OF UNITED STATES EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS.

(a) ACTION BY THE PRESIDENT.—If the President determines that a particular foreign country has taken or has committed to take actions that contribute to efforts of the United States to respond to, deter, or prevent acts of international terrorism, the Secretary of the Treasury may, consistent with other applicable provisions of law, instruct the United States Executive Director of each international financial institution to use the voice and vote of the Executive Director to support any loan or other utilization of the funds of respective institutions for such country, or any public or private entity within such country.

(b) USE OF VOICE AND VOTE.—The Secretary of the Treasury may instruct the United States Executive Director of each international financial institution to aggressively use the voice and vote of the Executive Director to require an auditing of disbursements at such institutions to ensure that no funds are paid to persons who commit, threaten to commit, or support terrorism.

Subtitle C—Currency Crimes

SEC. 351. BULK CASH SMUGGLING.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) effective enforcement of the currency reporting requirements of chapter 53 of title 31, United States Code (commonly referred to as the Bank Secrecy Act), and the regulations promulgated thereunder, has forced drug dealers and other criminals engaged in cash-based businesses to avoid using traditional financial institutions;

(2) in their effort to avoid using traditional financial institutions, drug dealers, and other criminals are forced to move large quantities of currency in bulk form to and through the airports, border crossings, and other ports of entry where it can be smuggled out of the United States and placed in a foreign financial institution or sold on the black market;

(3) the transportation and smuggling of cash in bulk form may, at the time of enactment of this Act, be the most common form of money laundering, and the movement of large sums of cash is one of the most reliable warning signs of drug trafficking, terrorism, money laundering, racketeering, tax evasion, and similar crimes;

(4) the intentional transportation into or out of the United States of large amounts of currency or monetary instruments, in a manner designed to circumvent the mandatory reporting provisions of chapter 53 of title 31, United States Code, is the equivalent of, and creates the same harm as, the smuggling of goods;

(5) the arrest and prosecution of bulk cash smugglers is an important part of law enforcement's effort to stop the laundering of criminal proceeds, but the couriers who attempt to smuggle the cash out of the United States are typically low-level employees of large criminal organizations, and are easily replaced, and therefore only the confiscation of the smuggled bulk cash can effectively break the cycle of criminal activity of which the laundering of bulk cash is a critical part;

(6) the penalties for violations of the currency reporting requirements of the chapter 53 of title 31, United States Code, are insufficient to provide a deterrent to the laundering of criminal proceeds;

(7) because the only criminal violation under Federal law before the date of enactment of this Act was a reporting offense, the law does not adequately provide for the confiscation of smuggled currency; and

(8) if the smuggling of bulk cash were itself an offense, the cash could be confiscated as the corpus delicti of the smuggling offense.

(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this section are—

(1) to make the act of smuggling bulk cash itself a criminal offense;

(2) to authorize forfeiture of any cash or instruments of the smuggling offense;

(3) to emphasize the seriousness of the act of bulk cash smuggling; and

(4) to prescribe guidelines for determining the amount of property subject to such forfeiture in various situations.

(c) BULK CASH SMUGGLING OFFENSE.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter II of chapter 53 of title 31, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

"§ 5331. Bulk cash smuggling

"(a) CRIMINAL OFFENSE.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—Whoever, with the intent to evade a currency reporting requirement under section 5316, knowingly conceals more than $10,000 in currency or other monetary instruments on his or her person or in any conveyance, article of luggage, merchandise, or other container, and transports or transfers or attempts to transport or transfer the currency or monetary instruments from a place within the United States to a place outside of the United States, or from a place outside of the United States to a place within the United States, shall be guilty of a currency smuggling offense and subject to punishment under subsection (b).

"(b) PENALTIES.—

"(1) PRISON TERM.—A person convicted of a currency smuggling offense under subsection (a), or a conspiracy to commit such an offense, shall be imprisoned for not more than 5 years.

"(2) FORFEITURE.—

"(B) APPLICABILITY OF OTHER LAWS.—The seizure, restraint, and forfeiture of property under this section shall be governed by section 413 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 853). If the property subject to forfeiture is unavailable, and the defendant has no substitute property that may be forfeited pursuant to section 413(p) of that Act, the court shall enter a personal money judgment against the defendant in an amount equal to the value of the unavailable property.

"(c) SEIZURE OF SMUGGLING CASH.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—Any property involved in a violation of subsection (a), or a conspiracy to commit such violation, and any property traceable thereto, may be seized and, subject to subsection (d), forfeited to the United States.

"(2) APPLICABLE PROCEDURES.—A seizure and forfeiture under this subsection shall be governed by the procedures governing civil forfeitures under section 981(a)(1)(A) of title 18, United States Code.

"(d) PROPORTIONALITY OF FORFEITURE.—

"(1) MITIGATION.—Upon a showing by the property owner by a preponderance of the evidence that the currency or monetary instruments involved in the offense giving rise to the forfeiture were derived from a legitimate source and were intended for a lawful purpose, the court shall reduce the forfeiture to the maximum amount that is not grossly disproportional to the gravity of the offense.

"(2) CONSIDERATIONS.—In determining the amount of the forfeiture under paragraph (1), the court shall consider all aggravating and mitigating facts and circumstances that have a bearing on the gravity of the offense, including—

"(A) the value of the currency or other monetary instruments involved in the offense;

"(B) efforts by the person committing the offense to structure currency transactions, conceal property, or otherwise obstruct justice; and

"(C) whether the offense is part of a pattern of repeated violations of Federal law.

"(e) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—For purposes of subsections (b) and (c), any currency or other monetary instrument that is concealed or intended to be concealed in violation of subsection (a) or a conspiracy to commit such violation, any article, container, or conveyance used or intended to be used to conceal or transport the currency or other monetary instrument, and any other property used or intended to be used to facilitate the offense, shall be considered property involved in the offense.".

(2) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections for chapter 53 of title 31, United States Code, is amended by inserting after the item relating to section 5330 the following new item:

"5331. Bulk cash smuggling.".

(d) CURRENCY REPORTING VIOLATIONS.—Section 5317(c) of title 31, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(c) FORFEITURE OF PROPERTY.—

"(1) IN GENERAL.—

"(A) CRIMINAL FORFEITURE.—The court, in imposing sentence for any violation of section 5313, 5316, or 5324, or any conspiracy to commit such violation, shall order the defendant to forfeit all property, real or personal, involved in the offense and any property traceable thereto.

"(B) APPLICABLE PROCEDURES.—Forfeitures under this paragraph shall be governed by the procedures set forth in section 413 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 853), and the guidelines set forth in paragraph (3) of this subsection.

"(2) CIVIL FORFEITURE.—Any property involved in a violation of section 5313, 5316, or 5324, or any conspiracy to commit such violation, and any property traceable thereto, may be seized and, subject to paragraph (3), forfeited to the United States in accordance with the procedures governing civil forfeitures in money laundering cases pursuant to section 981(a)(1)(A) of title 18, United States Code.

"(3) MITIGATION.—In a forfeiture case under this subsection, upon a showing by the property owner by a preponderance of the evidence that any currency or monetary instruments involved in the offense giving rise to the forfeiture were derived from a legitimate source, and were intended for a lawful purpose, the court shall reduce the forfeiture to the maximum amount that is not grossly disproportional to the gravity of the offense. In determining the amount of the forfeiture, the court shall consider all aggravating and mitigating facts and circumstances that have a bearing on the gravity of the offense. Such circumstances include, but are not limited to, the following: the value of the currency or other monetary instruments involved in the offense; efforts by the person committing the offense to structure currency transactions, conceal property, or otherwise obstruct justice; and whether the offense is part of a pattern of repeated violations.

(e) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—Title 18, United States Code, is amended—

(1) in section 981(a)(1)(A) by striking "of section 5313(a) or 5324(a) of title 31, or"; and

(2) in section 982(a)(1), striking "of section 5313(a), 5316, or 5324 of title 31, or".

Subtitle E—Anticorruption Measures

SEC. 361. CORRUPTION OF FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS AND RULING ELITES.

It is the sense of Congress that, in deliberations between the United States Government and any other country on money laundering and corruption issues, the United States Government should—

(1) emphasize an approach that addresses not only the laundering of the proceeds of traditional criminal activity but also the increasingly endemic problem of governmental corruption and the corruption of ruling elites;

(2) encourage the enactment and enforcement of laws in such country to prevent money laundering and systemic corruption;

(3) make clear that the United States will take all steps necessary to identify the proceeds of foreign government corruption which have been deposited in United States financial institutions and return such proceeds to the citizens of the country to whom such assets belong; and

(4) advance policies and measures to promote good government and to prevent and reduce corruption and money laundering, including through instructions to the United States Executive Director of each international financial institution (as defined in section 1701(c) of the International Financial Institutions Act) to advocate such policies as a systematic element of economic reform programs and advice to member governments.

(2) the FATF should identify noncooperative jurisdictions in as expeditious a manner as possible and publicly release a list directly naming those jurisdictions identified;

(3) the United States should support the public release of the list naming noncooperative jurisdictions identified by the FATF;

(4) the United States should encourage the adoption of the necessary international action to encourage compliance by the identified noncooperative jurisdictions; and

(5) the United States should take the necessary countermeasures to protect the United States economy against money of unlawful origin and encourage other nations to do the same.

SEC. 363. TERRORIST FUNDING THROUGH MONEY LAUNDERING.

It is the sense of the Congress that, in deliberations and negotiations between the United States Government and any other country regarding financial, economic, assistance, or defense issues, the United States should encourage such other country—

(1) to take actions which would identify and prevent the transmittal of funds to and from terrorists and terrorist organizations; and

(2) to engage in bilateral and multilateral cooperation with the United States and other countries to identify suspected terrorists, terrorist organizations, and persons supplying funds to and receiving funds from terrorists and terrorist organizations.

Raids Conducted in War Against Terrorism

- President Bush today ordered military raids on the al Queda terrorist training camps and military installations of the Taliban regime in Afghanistan.
- These raids will help create more favorable conditions to pursue terrorists and provide humanitarian aid to the Afghan people.
- This is not a war against the people of Afghanistan or Islam; it is a war against terrorists who profane a great religion by committing murder in its name.
- Thousands of innocent people from more than 70 nations were killed and injured by the terrorist attack on September 11. Civilized nations cannot forget this, nor fail to take every possible action to prevent future attacks.
- We will strike where and when necessary to deny terrorists the means to obtain or develop weapons of mass destruction that could be used against our people, friends and allies.
- Our use of military force is planned and measured to minimize further loss of life and diminish the threat to the Afghan people.
- The war against terrorism will be broad and sustained. We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ Text from October 7, 2001 Statement of President George W. Bush:

"These carefully targeted actions are designed to disrupt the use of Afghanistan as a terrorist base of operations and to attack the military capability of the Taliban regime.

"The United States of America is a friend to the Afghan people, and we are the friends of almost a billion worldwide who practice the Islamic faith.

"To all the men and women in our military, every sailor, every soldier, every airman, every Coast Guardsman, every Marine, I say this: Your mission is defined. The objectives are clear. Your goal is just. You have my full confidence, and you will have every tool you need to carry out your duty."

Raids Conducted in War Against Terrorism

- President Bush today ordered military raids on the al Queda terrorist training camps and military installations of the Taliban regime in Afghanistan.
- These raids will help create more favorable conditions to pursue terrorists and provide humanitarian aid to the Afghan people.
- This is not a war against the people of Afghanistan or Islam; it is a war against terrorists who profane a great religion by committing murder in its name.
- Thousands of innocent people from more than 70 nations were killed and injured by the terrorist attack on September 11. Civilized nations cannot forget this, nor fail to take every possible action to prevent future attacks.
- We will strike where and when necessary to deny terrorists the means to obtain or develop weapons of mass destruction that could be used against our people, friends and allies.
- Our use of military force is planned and measured to minimize further loss of life and diminish the threat to the Afghan people.
- The war against terrorism will be broad and sustained. We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ Text from October 7, 2001 Statement of President George W. Bush:

"These carefully targeted actions are designed to disrupt the use of Afghanistan as a terrorist base of operations and to attack the military capability of the Taliban regime.

"The United States of America is a friend to the Afghan people, and we are the friends of almost a billion worldwide who practice the Islamic faith.

"To all the men and women in our military, every sailor, every soldier, every airman, every Coast Guardsman, every Marine, I say this: Your mission is defined. The objectives are clear. Your goal is just. You have my full confidence, and you will have every tool you need to carry out your duty."

Raids Conducted in War Against Terrorism

- President Bush today ordered military raids on the al Queda terrorist training camps and military installations of the Taliban regime in Afghanistan.
- These raids will help create more favorable conditions to pursue terrorists and provide humanitarian aid to the Afghan people.
- This is not a war against the people of Afghanistan or Islam; it is a war against terrorists who profane a great religion by committing murder in its name.
- Thousands of innocent people from more than 70 nations were killed and injured by the terrorist attack on September 11. Civilized nations cannot forget this, nor fail to take every possible action to prevent future attacks.
- We will strike where and when necessary to deny terrorists the means to obtain or develop weapons of mass destruction that could be used against our people, friends and allies.
- Our use of military force is planned and measured to minimize further loss of life and diminish the threat to the Afghan people.
- The war against terrorism will be broad and sustained. We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ Text from October 7, 2001 Statement of President George W. Bush:

"These carefully targeted actions are designed to disrupt the use of Afghanistan as a terrorist base of operations and to attack the military capability of the Taliban regime.

"The United States of America is a friend to the Afghan people, and we are the friends of almost a billion worldwide who practice the Islamic faith.

"To all the men and women in our military, every sailor, every soldier, every airman, every Coast Guardsman, every Marine, I say this: Your mission is defined. The objectives are clear. Your goal is just. You have my full confidence, and you will have every tool you need to carry out your duty."

Raids Conducted in War Against Terrorism

- President Bush today ordered military raids on the al Queda terrorist training camps and military installations of the Taliban regime in Afghanistan.
- These raids will help create more favorable conditions to pursue terrorists and provide humanitarian aid to the Afghan people.
- This is not a war against the people of Afghanistan or Islam; it is a war against terrorists who profane a great religion by committing murder in its name.
- Thousands of innocent people from more than 70 nations were killed and injured by the terrorist attack on September 11. Civilized nations cannot forget this, nor fail to take every possible action to prevent future attacks.
- We will strike where and when necessary to deny terrorists the means to obtain or develop weapons of mass destruction that could be used against our people, friends and allies.
- Our use of military force is planned and measured to minimize further loss of life and diminish the threat to the Afghan people.
- The war against terrorism will be broad and sustained. We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ Text from October 7, 2001 Statement of President George W. Bush:

"These carefully targeted actions are designed to disrupt the use of Afghanistan as a terrorist base of operations and to attack the military capability of the Taliban regime.

"The United States of America is a friend to the Afghan people, and we are the friends of almost a billion worldwide who practice the Islamic faith.

"To all the men and women in our military, every sailor, every soldier, every airman, every Coast Guardsman, every Marine, I say this: Your mission is defined. The objectives are clear. Your goal is just. You have my full confidence, and you will have every tool you need to carry out your duty."

Raids Conducted in War Against Terrorism

- President Bush today ordered military raids on the al Queda terrorist training camps and military installations of the Taliban regime in Afghanistan.
- These raids will help create more favorable conditions to pursue terrorists and provide humanitarian aid to the Afghan people.
- This is not a war against the people of Afghanistan or Islam; it is a war against terrorists who profane a great religion by committing murder in its name.
- Thousands of innocent people from more than 70 nations were killed and injured by the terrorist attack on September 11. Civilized nations cannot forget this, nor fail to take every possible action to prevent future attacks.
- We will strike where and when necessary to deny terrorists the means to obtain or develop weapons of mass destruction that could be used against our people, friends and allies.
- Our use of military force is planned and measured to minimize further loss of life and diminish the threat to the Afghan people.
- The war against terrorism will be broad and sustained. We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ Text from October 7, 2001 Statement of President George W. Bush:

"These carefully targeted actions are designed to disrupt the use of Afghanistan as a terrorist base of operations and to attack the military capability of the Taliban regime.

"The United States of America is a friend to the Afghan people, and we are the friends of almost a billion worldwide who practice the Islamic faith.

"To all the men and women in our military, every sailor, every soldier, every airman, every Coast Guardsman, every Marine, I say this: Your mission is defined. The objectives are clear. Your goal is just. You have my full confidence, and you will have every tool you need to carry out your duty."

Raids Conducted in War Against Terrorism

- President Bush today ordered military raids on the al Queda terrorist training camps and military installations of the Taliban regime in Afghanistan.
- These raids will help create more favorable conditions to pursue terrorists and provide humanitarian aid to the Afghan people.
- This is not a war against the people of Afghanistan or Islam; it is a war against terrorists who profane a great religion by committing murder in its name.
- Thousands of innocent people from more than 70 nations were killed and injured by the terrorist attack on September 11. Civilized nations cannot forget this, nor fail to take every possible action to prevent future attacks.
- We will strike where and when necessary to deny terrorists the means to obtain or develop weapons of mass destruction that could be used against our people, friends and allies.
- Our use of military force is planned and measured to minimize further loss of life and diminish the threat to the Afghan people.
- The war against terrorism will be broad and sustained. We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ Text from October 7, 2001 Statement of President George W. Bush:

"These carefully targeted actions are designed to disrupt the use of Afghanistan as a terrorist base of operations and to attack the military capability of the Taliban regime.

"The United States of America is a friend to the Afghan people, and we are the friends of almost a billion worldwide who practice the Islamic faith.

"To all the men and women in our military, every sailor, every soldier, every airman, every Coast Guardsman, every Marine, I say this: Your mission is defined. The objectives are clear. Your goal is just. You have my full confidence, and you will have every tool you need to carry out your duty."

Raids Conducted in War Against Terrorism

- President Bush today ordered military raids on the al Queda terrorist training camps and military installations of the Taliban regime in Afghanistan.
- These raids will help create more favorable conditions to pursue terrorists and provide humanitarian aid to the Afghan people.
- This is not a war against the people of Afghanistan or Islam; it is a war against terrorists who profane a great religion by committing murder in its name.
- Thousands of innocent people from more than 70 nations were killed and injured by the terrorist attack on September 11. Civilized nations cannot forget this, nor fail to take every possible action to prevent future attacks.
- We will strike where and when necessary to deny terrorists the means to obtain or develop weapons of mass destruction that could be used against our people, friends and allies.
- Our use of military force is planned and measured to minimize further loss of life and diminish the threat to the Afghan people.
- The war against terrorism will be broad and sustained. We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ Text from October 7, 2001 Statement of President George W. Bush:

"These carefully targeted actions are designed to disrupt the use of Afghanistan as a terrorist base of operations and to attack the military capability of the Taliban regime.

"The United States of America is a friend to the Afghan people, and we are the friends of almost a billion worldwide who practice the Islamic faith.

"To all the men and women in our military, every sailor, every soldier, every airman, every Coast Guardsman, every Marine, I say this: Your mission is defined. The objectives are clear. Your goal is just. You have my full confidence, and you will have every tool you need to carry out your duty."

Raids Conducted in War Against Terrorism

- President Bush today ordered military raids on the al Queda terrorist training camps and military installations of the Taliban regime in Afghanistan.
- These raids will help create more favorable conditions to pursue terrorists and provide humanitarian aid to the Afghan people.
- This is not a war against the people of Afghanistan or Islam; it is a war against terrorists who profane a great religion by committing murder in its name.
- Thousands of innocent people from more than 70 nations were killed and injured by the terrorist attack on September 11. Civilized nations cannot forget this, nor fail to take every possible action to prevent future attacks.
- We will strike where and when necessary to deny terrorists the means to obtain or develop weapons of mass destruction that could be used against our people, friends and allies.
- Our use of military force is planned and measured to minimize further loss of life and diminish the threat to the Afghan people.
- The war against terrorism will be broad and sustained. We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ Text from October 7, 2001 Statement of President George W. Bush:

"These carefully targeted actions are designed to disrupt the use of Afghanistan as a terrorist base of operations and to attack the military capability of the Taliban regime.

"The United States of America is a friend to the Afghan people, and we are the friends of almost a billion worldwide who practice the Islamic faith.

"To all the men and women in our military, every sailor, every soldier, every airman, every Coast Guardsman, every Marine, I say this: Your mission is defined. The objectives are clear. Your goal is just. You have my full confidence, and you will have every tool you need to carry out your duty."

Raids Conducted in War Against Terrorism

- President Bush today ordered military raids on the al Queda terrorist training camps and military installations of the Taliban regime in Afghanistan.
- These raids will help create more favorable conditions to pursue terrorists and provide humanitarian aid to the Afghan people.
- This is not a war against the people of Afghanistan or Islam; it is a war against terrorists who profane a great religion by committing murder in its name.
- Thousands of innocent people from more than 70 nations were killed and injured by the terrorist attack on September 11. Civilized nations cannot forget this, nor fail to take every possible action to prevent future attacks.
- We will strike where and when necessary to deny terrorists the means to obtain or develop weapons of mass destruction that could be used against our people, friends and allies.
- Our use of military force is planned and measured to minimize further loss of life and diminish the threat to the Afghan people.
- The war against terrorism will be broad and sustained. We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ Text from October 7, 2001 Statement of President George W. Bush:

"These carefully targeted actions are designed to disrupt the use of Afghanistan as a terrorist base of operations and to attack the military capability of the Taliban regime.

"The United States of America is a friend to the Afghan people, and we are the friends of almost a billion worldwide who practice the Islamic faith.

"To all the men and women in our military, every sailor, every soldier, every airman, every Coast Guardsman, every Marine, I say this: Your mission is defined. The objectives are clear. Your goal is just. You have my full confidence, and you will have every tool you need to carry out your duty."

Raids Conducted in War Against Terrorism

- President Bush today ordered military raids on the al Queda terrorist training camps and military installations of the Taliban regime in Afghanistan.
- These raids will help create more favorable conditions to pursue terrorists and provide humanitarian aid to the Afghan people.
- This is not a war against the people of Afghanistan or Islam; it is a war against terrorists who profane a great religion by committing murder in its name.
- Thousands of innocent people from more than 70 nations were killed and injured by the terrorist attack on September 11. Civilized nations cannot forget this, nor fail to take every possible action to prevent future attacks.
- We will strike where and when necessary to deny terrorists the means to obtain or develop weapons of mass destruction that could be used against our people, friends and allies.
- Our use of military force is planned and measured to minimize further loss of life and diminish the threat to the Afghan people.
- The war against terrorism will be broad and sustained. We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ Text from October 7, 2001 Statement of President George W. Bush:

"These carefully targeted actions are designed to disrupt the use of Afghanistan as a terrorist base of operations and to attack the military capability of the Taliban regime.

"The United States of America is a friend to the Afghan people, and we are the friends of almost a billion worldwide who practice the Islamic faith.

"To all the men and women in our military, every sailor, every soldier, every airman, every Coast Guardsman, every Marine, I say this: Your mission is defined. The objectives are clear. Your goal is just. You have my full confidence, and you will have every tool you need to carry out your duty."

Sounds like 6:00 Tuesday is better. Also, note that of the 54
vacancies without nominees, we have Presidential approval for candidates for 29 of the 54 (the 29 number does not include those who received Presidential approval and then dropped out). That leaves 25 vacancies that we can really focus on tomorrow. (I have 3 of those 25: CA9 California, Washington dct, and Illinois dct.)

that's a known future vacancy (it comes open on 6-11-2001); was not counting those, although we can discuss those quickly; there are not that many

Sounds like 6:00 Tuesday is better. Also, note that of the 54
vacancies without nominees, we have Presidential approval for candidates for 29 of the 54 (the 29 number does not include those who received Presidential approval and then dropped out). That leaves 25 vacancies that we can really focus on tomorrow. (I have 3 of those 25: CA9 California, Washington dct, and Illinois dct.)

The Office will work with state and local governments in assessing the adequacy of their legal authorities to permit them to detect, prepare for, prevent, protect against, and recover from terrorist threats and attacks.

Budget Review

The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, in consultation with the Director of the Office of Management and Budget and the heads of executive departments and agencies, will identify programs that contribute to the Administration's strategy for homeland security and, in the development of the President's annual budget submission, shall review and provide advice to the heads of departments and agencies for such programs. The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security will provide advice to the Director on the level and use of funding in departments and agencies for homeland security-related activities and, prior to the Director's forwarding of the proposed annual budget submission to the President for transmittal to Congress, will certify to the Director the funding levels that the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security believes are necessary and appropriate for the homeland security-related activities of the executive branch.

Administration

The Office of Homeland Security will be directed by the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security. The Office of Administration within the Executive Office of the President shall provide the Office of Homeland Security with such personnel, funding, and administrative support, to the extent permitted by law and subject to the availability of appropriations, as directed by the Chief of Staff to carry out the provisions of this order.

Heads of executive departments and agencies are authorized, to the extent permitted by law, to detail or assign personnel of such departments and agencies to the Office of Homeland Security upon request of the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, subject to the approval of the Chief of Staff.

The Homeland Security Council

The President's Executive Order establishes a Homeland Security Council which will be responsible for advising and assisting the President with respect to all aspects of homeland security. The Council will serve as the mechanism for ensuring coordination of homeland security-related activities of executive departments and agencies and effective development and implementation of homeland security policies.

The Council will have as its members the President, the Vice President, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Defense, the Attorney General, the Secretary of Health and Human Services, the Secretary of Transportation, the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Director of Central Intelligence, the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, and such other officers of the executive branch as the President may from time to time designate. The Chief of Staff, the Chief of Staff to the Vice President, the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, the Counsel to the President, and the Director of the Office of Management and Budget also are invited to attend any Council meeting. The Secretary of State, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Secretary of the Interior, the Secretary of Energy, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, the Assistant to the President for Economic Policy, and the Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy shall be invited to attend meetings pertaining to their responsibilities. The heads of other executive departments and agencies and other senior officials shall be invited to attend Council meetings when appropriate.

The Council will meet at the President's direction. When the President is absent from a meeting of the Council, at the President's direction the Vice President may preside. The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security will be responsible, at the President's direction, for determining the agenda, ensuring that necessary papers are prepared, and recording Council actions and Presidential decisions.

The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, in coordination with the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, will review plans and preparations for ensuring the continuity of the Federal Government in the event of a terrorist attack that threatens the safety and security of the United States Government or its leadership.

Public Affairs

The Office, subject to the direction of the White House Office of Communications, shall coordinate the strategy of the executive branch for communicating with the public in the event of a terrorist threat or attack within the United States. The Office also will coordinate the development of programs for educating the public about the nature of terrorist threats and appropriate precautions and responses.

Review of Legal Authorities and Development of Legislative Proposals

The Office will coordinate a periodic review and assessment of the legal authorities available to executive departments and agencies to permit them to perform the functions described in this order. When the Office determines that such legal authorities are inadequate, the Office will develop, in consultation with executive departments and agencies, proposals for presidential action and legislative proposals for submission to the Office of Management and Budget to enhance the ability of executive departments and agencies to perform those functions. The Office will work with state and local governments in assessing the adequacy of their legal authorities to permit them to detect, prepare for, prevent, protect against, and recover from terrorist threats and attacks.

Budget Review

The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, in consultation with the Director of the Office of Management and Budget and the heads of executive departments and agencies, will identify programs that contribute to the Administration's strategy for homeland security and, in the development of the President's annual budget submission, shall review and provide advice to the heads of departments and agencies for such programs. The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security will provide advice to the Director on the level and use of funding in departments and agencies for homeland security-related activities and, prior to the Director's forwarding of the proposed annual budget submission to the President for transmittal to Congress, will certify to the Director the funding levels that the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security believes are necessary and appropriate for the homeland security-related activities of the executive branch.

Administration

The Office of Homeland Security will be directed by the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security. The Office of Administration within the Executive Office of the President shall provide the Office of Homeland Security with such personnel, funding, and administrative support, to the extent permitted by law and subject to the availability of appropriations, as directed by the Chief of Staff to carry out the provisions of this order.

Heads of executive departments and agencies are authorized, to the extent permitted by law, to detail or assign personnel of such departments and agencies to the Office of Homeland Security upon request of the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, subject to the approval of the Chief of Staff.

The Homeland Security Council

The President's Executive Order establishes a Homeland Security Council which will be responsible for advising and assisting the President with respect to all aspects of homeland security. The Council will serve as the mechanism for ensuring coordination of homeland security-related activities of executive departments and agencies and effective development and implementation of homeland security policies.

The Council will have as its members the President, the Vice President, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Defense, the Attorney General, the Secretary of Health and Human Services, the Secretary of Transportation, the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Director of Central Intelligence, the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, and such other officers of the executive branch as the President may from time to time designate. The Chief of Staff, the Chief of Staff to the Vice President, the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, the Counsel to the President, and the Director of the Office of Management and Budget also are invited to attend any Council meeting. The Secretary of State, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Secretary of the Interior, the Secretary of Energy, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, the Assistant to the President for Economic Policy, and the Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy shall be invited to attend meetings pertaining to their responsibilities. The heads of other executive departments and agencies and other senior officials shall be invited to attend Council meetings when appropriate.

The Council will meet at the President's direction. When the President is absent from a meeting of the Council, at the President's direction the Vice President may preside. The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security will be responsible, at the President's direction, for determining the agenda, ensuring that necessary papers are prepared, and recording Council actions and Presidential decisions.

The Office will coordinate efforts to respond to and promote recovery from terrorist threats or attacks within the United States. In performing this function, the Office shall work with federal, state, and local agencies, and private entities to:

- coordinate efforts to ensure rapid restoration of transportation systems, energy production, transmission, and distribution systems; telecommunications; other utilities; and other critical infrastructure facilities after disruption by a terrorist threat or attack;
- coordinate efforts to ensure rapid restoration of public and private critical information systems after disruption by a terrorist threat or attack;
- work with the National Economic Council to coordinate efforts to stabilize United States financial markets after a terrorist threat or attack and manage the immediate economic and financial consequences of the incident;
- coordinate federal plans and programs to provide medical, financial, and other assistance to victims of terrorist attacks and their families; and

- coordinate containment and removal of biological, chemical, radiological, explosive, or other hazardous materials in the event of a terrorist threat or attack involving such hazards and coordinate efforts to mitigate the effects of such an attack.

Incident Management

The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security will be the individual primarily responsible for coordinating the domestic response efforts of all departments and agencies in the event of an imminent terrorist threat and during and in the immediate aftermath of a terrorist attack within the United States and shall be the principal point of contact for and to the President with respect to coordination of such efforts. The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security will coordinate with the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, as appropriate.

Continuity of Government

The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, in coordination with the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, will review plans and preparations for ensuring the continuity of the Federal Government in the event of a terrorist attack that threatens the safety and security of the United States Government or its leadership.

Public Affairs

The Office, subject to the direction of the White House Office of Communications, shall coordinate the strategy of the executive branch for communicating with the public in the event of a terrorist threat or attack within the United States. The Office also will coordinate the development of programs for educating the public about the nature of terrorist threats and appropriate precautions and responses.

Review of Legal Authorities and Development of Legislative Proposals

The Office will coordinate a periodic review and assessment of the legal authorities available to executive departments and agencies to permit them to perform the functions described in this order. When the Office determines that such legal authorities are inadequate, the Office will develop, in consultation with executive departments and agencies, proposals for presidential action and legislative proposals for submission to the Office of Management and Budget to enhance the ability of executive departments and agencies to perform those functions. The Office will work with state and local governments in assessing the adequacy of their legal authorities to permit them to detect, prepare for, prevent, protect against, and recover from terrorist threats and attacks.

Budget Review

The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, in consultation with the Director of the Office of Management and Budget and the heads of executive departments and agencies, will identify programs that contribute to the Administration's strategy for homeland security and, in the development of the President's annual budget submission, shall review and provide advice to the heads of departments and agencies for such programs. The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security will provide advice to the Director on the level and use of funding in departments and agencies for homeland security-related activities and, prior to the Director's forwarding of the proposed annual budget submission to the President for transmittal to Congress, will certify to the Director the funding levels that the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security believes are necessary and appropriate for the homeland security-related activities of the executive branch.

Administration

The Office of Homeland Security will be directed by the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security. The Office of Administration within the Executive Office of the President shall provide the Office of Homeland Security with such personnel, funding, and administrative support, to the extent permitted by law and subject to the availability of appropriations, as directed by the Chief of Staff to carry out the provisions of this order.

Heads of executive departments and agencies are authorized, to the extent permitted by law, to detail or assign personnel of such departments and agencies to the Office of Homeland Security upon request of the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, subject to the approval of the Chief of Staff.

The Homeland Security Council

The President's Executive Order establishes a Homeland Security Council which will be responsible for advising and assisting the President with respect to all aspects of homeland security. The Council will serve as the mechanism for ensuring coordination of homeland security-related activities of executive departments and agencies and effective development and implementation of homeland security policies.

The Council will have as its members the President, the Vice President, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Defense, the Attorney General, the Secretary of Health and Human Services, the Secretary of Transportation, the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Director of Central Intelligence, the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, and such other officers of the executive branch as the President may from time to time designate. The Chief of Staff, the Chief of Staff to the Vice President, the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, the Counsel to the President, and the Director of the Office of Management and Budget also are invited to attend any Council meeting. The Secretary of State, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Secretary of the Interior, the Secretary of Energy, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, the Assistant to the President for Economic Policy, and the Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy shall be invited to attend meetings pertaining to their responsibilities. The heads of other executive departments and agencies and other senior officials shall be invited to attend Council meetings when appropriate.

The Council will meet at the President's direction. When the President is absent from a meeting of the Council, at the President's direction the Vice President may preside. The Assistant to the President for Homeland Security will be responsible, at the President's direction, for determining the agenda, ensuring that necessary papers are prepared, and recording Council actions and Presidential decisions.

The War Against Terrorism

➢ Current military operations are focused on achieving several outcomes:

- Making it clear that harboring terrorists carries an unacceptable price;
- Providing humanitarian relief to the oppressed;
- Acquiring intelligence to facilitate future operations;
- Developing relationships with opposition groups within Afghanistan;
- Altering the military balance by denying the Taliban its offensive systems.

➢ There is no silver bullet, no single event or action that is going to suddenly make the threat of terrorism disappear.

- This broad-based and sustained effort – diplomatic, financial, intelligence and military, both overt and covert -- will continue until terrorism is rooted out.
- The situation is similar to the Cold War, when continuous pressure from many nations caused communism to collapse from within.
- We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ The world stands united in this effort.

- This is not about any religion, country, or race.
- Our coalition partners represent nations and peoples of all cultures, religions and ethnic groups.
- Dozens of countries contributed to this operation in significant ways.
- We support the Afghan people against al Qaeda, which is a foreign presence on their land.

➢ Statement from October 8, 2001 Interview of Secretary Rumsfeld:

"The purpose of these attacks was to attack, very discreetly, military targets, Taliban and al Qaeda military targets, to create the conditions so that we can engage in a sustained effort to root out those terrorists. It will take time. It is an effort that is certainly not against the Afghan people. Indeed, we're engaged in a massive humanitarian effort for the Afghan people. It's against terrorists, pure and simple. " (NBC Today Show)

There is an email going around trying to enlist people to sign up at the Office of the Presidential Prayer Team. I checked this with the RNC and they are not involved. Their IT person checked out the persons behind this and it looks like a scam to collect email addresses using the President's office.

Your shop may want to call this company. This is standard op for our opponents. They gather email addresses of evangelical Christians and then use them to bash the President at an opportune time. This may or may not be one of those times, but nonetheless we should stop folks from using the President's office for their own gain. Thanks.

The War Against Terrorism

➢ Current military operations are focused on achieving several outcomes:

- Making it clear that harboring terrorists carries an unacceptable price;
- Providing humanitarian relief to the oppressed;
- Acquiring intelligence to facilitate future operations;
- Developing relationships with opposition groups within Afghanistan;
- Altering the military balance by denying the Taliban its offensive systems.

➢ There is no silver bullet, no single event or action that is going to suddenly make the threat of terrorism disappear.

- This broad-based and sustained effort – diplomatic, financial, intelligence and military, both overt and covert -- will continue until terrorism is rooted out.
- The situation is similar to the Cold War, when continuous pressure from many nations caused communism to collapse from within.
- We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ The world stands united in this effort.

- This is not about any religion, country, or race.
- Our coalition partners represent nations and peoples of all cultures, religions and ethnic groups.
- Dozens of countries contributed to this operation in significant ways.
- We support the Afghan people against al Qaeda, which is a foreign presence on their land.

➢ Statement from October 8, 2001 Interview of Secretary Rumsfeld:

"The purpose of these attacks was to attack, very discreetly, military targets, Taliban and al Qaeda military targets, to create the conditions so that we can engage in a sustained effort to root out those terrorists. It will take time. It is an effort that is certainly not against the Afghan people. Indeed, we're engaged in a massive humanitarian effort for the Afghan people. It's against terrorists, pure and simple. " (NBC Today Show)

The War Against Terrorism

➢ Current military operations are focused on achieving several outcomes:

- Making it clear that harboring terrorists carries an unacceptable price;
- Providing humanitarian relief to the oppressed;
- Acquiring intelligence to facilitate future operations;
- Developing relationships with opposition groups within Afghanistan;
- Altering the military balance by denying the Taliban its offensive systems.

➢ There is no silver bullet, no single event or action that is going to suddenly make the threat of terrorism disappear.

- This broad-based and sustained effort – diplomatic, financial, intelligence and military, both overt and covert -- will continue until terrorism is rooted out.
- The situation is similar to the Cold War, when continuous pressure from many nations caused communism to collapse from within.
- We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ The world stands united in this effort.

- This is not about any religion, country, or race.
- Our coalition partners represent nations and peoples of all cultures, religions and ethnic groups.
- Dozens of countries contributed to this operation in significant ways.
- We support the Afghan people against al Qaeda, which is a foreign presence on their land.

➢ Statement from October 8, 2001 Interview of Secretary Rumsfeld:

"The purpose of these attacks was to attack, very discreetly, military targets, Taliban and al Qaeda military targets, to create the conditions so that we can engage in a sustained effort to root out those terrorists. It will take time. It is an effort that is certainly not against the Afghan people. Indeed, we're engaged in a massive humanitarian effort for the Afghan people. It's against terrorists, pure and simple. " (NBC Today Show)

The War Against Terrorism

➢ Current military operations are focused on achieving several outcomes:

- Making it clear that harboring terrorists carries an unacceptable price;
- Providing humanitarian relief to the oppressed;
- Acquiring intelligence to facilitate future operations;
- Developing relationships with opposition groups within Afghanistan;
- Altering the military balance by denying the Taliban its offensive systems.

➢ There is no silver bullet, no single event or action that is going to suddenly make the threat of terrorism disappear.

- This broad-based and sustained effort – diplomatic, financial, intelligence and military, both overt and covert -- will continue until terrorism is rooted out.
- The situation is similar to the Cold War, when continuous pressure from many nations caused communism to collapse from within.
- We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ The world stands united in this effort.

- This is not about any religion, country, or race.
- Our coalition partners represent nations and peoples of all cultures, religions and ethnic groups.
- Dozens of countries contributed to this operation in significant ways.
- We support the Afghan people against al Qaeda, which is a foreign presence on their land.

➢ Statement from October 8, 2001 Interview of Secretary Rumsfeld:

"The purpose of these attacks was to attack, very discreetly, military targets, Taliban and al Qaeda military targets, to create the conditions so that we can engage in a sustained effort to root out those terrorists. It will take time. It is an effort that is certainly not against the Afghan people. Indeed, we're engaged in a massive humanitarian effort for the Afghan people. It's against terrorists, pure and simple. " (NBC Today Show)

The War Against Terrorism

➢ Current military operations are focused on achieving several outcomes:

- Making it clear that harboring terrorists carries an unacceptable price;
- Providing humanitarian relief to the oppressed;
- Acquiring intelligence to facilitate future operations;
- Developing relationships with opposition groups within Afghanistan;
- Altering the military balance by denying the Taliban its offensive systems.

➢ There is no silver bullet, no single event or action that is going to suddenly make the threat of terrorism disappear.

- This broad-based and sustained effort – diplomatic, financial, intelligence and military, both overt and covert -- will continue until terrorism is rooted out.
- The situation is similar to the Cold War, when continuous pressure from many nations caused communism to collapse from within.
- We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ The world stands united in this effort.

- This is not about any religion, country, or race.
- Our coalition partners represent nations and peoples of all cultures, religions and ethnic groups.
- Dozens of countries contributed to this operation in significant ways.
- We support the Afghan people against al Qaeda, which is a foreign presence on their land.

➢ Statement from October 8, 2001 Interview of Secretary Rumsfeld:

"The purpose of these attacks was to attack, very discreetly, military targets, Taliban and al Qaeda military targets, to create the conditions so that we can engage in a sustained effort to root out those terrorists. It will take time. It is an effort that is certainly not against the Afghan people. Indeed, we're engaged in a massive humanitarian effort for the Afghan people. It's against terrorists, pure and simple. " (NBC Today Show)

The War Against Terrorism

➢ Current military operations are focused on achieving several outcomes:

- Making it clear that harboring terrorists carries an unacceptable price;
- Providing humanitarian relief to the oppressed;
- Acquiring intelligence to facilitate future operations;
- Developing relationships with opposition groups within Afghanistan;
- Altering the military balance by denying the Taliban its offensive systems.

➢ There is no silver bullet, no single event or action that is going to suddenly make the threat of terrorism disappear.

- This broad-based and sustained effort – diplomatic, financial, intelligence and military, both overt and covert -- will continue until terrorism is rooted out.
- The situation is similar to the Cold War, when continuous pressure from many nations caused communism to collapse from within.
- We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ The world stands united in this effort.

- This is not about any religion, country, or race.
- Our coalition partners represent nations and peoples of all cultures, religions and ethnic groups.
- Dozens of countries contributed to this operation in significant ways.
- We support the Afghan people against al Qaeda, which is a foreign presence on their land.

➢ Statement from October 8, 2001 Interview of Secretary Rumsfeld:

"The purpose of these attacks was to attack, very discreetly, military targets, Taliban and al Qaeda military targets, to create the conditions so that we can engage in a sustained effort to root out those terrorists. It will take time. It is an effort that is certainly not against the Afghan people. Indeed, we're engaged in a massive humanitarian effort for the Afghan people. It's against terrorists, pure and simple. " (NBC Today Show)

The War Against Terrorism

➢ Current military operations are focused on achieving several outcomes:

- Making it clear that harboring terrorists carries an unacceptable price;
- Providing humanitarian relief to the oppressed;
- Acquiring intelligence to facilitate future operations;
- Developing relationships with opposition groups within Afghanistan;
- Altering the military balance by denying the Taliban its offensive systems.

➢ There is no silver bullet, no single event or action that is going to suddenly make the threat of terrorism disappear.

- This broad-based and sustained effort – diplomatic, financial, intelligence and military, both overt and covert -- will continue until terrorism is rooted out.
- The situation is similar to the Cold War, when continuous pressure from many nations caused communism to collapse from within.
- We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ The world stands united in this effort.

- This is not about any religion, country, or race.
- Our coalition partners represent nations and peoples of all cultures, religions and ethnic groups.
- Dozens of countries contributed to this operation in significant ways.
- We support the Afghan people against al Qaeda, which is a foreign presence on their land.

➢ Statement from October 8, 2001 Interview of Secretary Rumsfeld:

"The purpose of these attacks was to attack, very discreetly, military targets, Taliban and al Qaeda military targets, to create the conditions so that we can engage in a sustained effort to root out those terrorists. It will take time. It is an effort that is certainly not against the Afghan people. Indeed, we're engaged in a massive humanitarian effort for the Afghan people. It's against terrorists, pure and simple. " (NBC Today Show)

The War Against Terrorism

➢ Current military operations are focused on achieving several outcomes:

- Making it clear that harboring terrorists carries an unacceptable price;
- Providing humanitarian relief to the oppressed;
- Acquiring intelligence to facilitate future operations;
- Developing relationships with opposition groups within Afghanistan;
- Altering the military balance by denying the Taliban its offensive systems.

➢ There is no silver bullet, no single event or action that is going to suddenly make the threat of terrorism disappear.

- This broad-based and sustained effort – diplomatic, financial, intelligence and military, both overt and covert -- will continue until terrorism is rooted out.
- The situation is similar to the Cold War, when continuous pressure from many nations caused communism to collapse from within.
- We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ The world stands united in this effort.

- This is not about any religion, country, or race.
- Our coalition partners represent nations and peoples of all cultures, religions and ethnic groups.
- Dozens of countries contributed to this operation in significant ways.
- We support the Afghan people against al Qaeda, which is a foreign presence on their land.

➢ Statement from October 8, 2001 Interview of Secretary Rumsfeld:

"The purpose of these attacks was to attack, very discreetly, military targets, Taliban and al Qaeda military targets, to create the conditions so that we can engage in a sustained effort to root out those terrorists. It will take time. It is an effort that is certainly not against the Afghan people. Indeed, we're engaged in a massive humanitarian effort for the Afghan people. It's against terrorists, pure and simple. " (NBC Today Show)

The War Against Terrorism

➢ Current military operations are focused on achieving several outcomes:

- Making it clear that harboring terrorists carries an unacceptable price;
- Providing humanitarian relief to the oppressed;
- Acquiring intelligence to facilitate future operations;
- Developing relationships with opposition groups within Afghanistan;
- Altering the military balance by denying the Taliban its offensive systems.

➢ There is no silver bullet, no single event or action that is going to suddenly make the threat of terrorism disappear.

- This broad-based and sustained effort – diplomatic, financial, intelligence and military, both overt and covert -- will continue until terrorism is rooted out.
- The situation is similar to the Cold War, when continuous pressure from many nations caused communism to collapse from within.
- We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ The world stands united in this effort.

- This is not about any religion, country, or race.
- Our coalition partners represent nations and peoples of all cultures, religions and ethnic groups.
- Dozens of countries contributed to this operation in significant ways.
- We support the Afghan people against al Qaeda, which is a foreign presence on their land.

➢ Statement from October 8, 2001 Interview of Secretary Rumsfeld:

"The purpose of these attacks was to attack, very discreetly, military targets, Taliban and al Qaeda military targets, to create the conditions so that we can engage in a sustained effort to root out those terrorists. It will take time. It is an effort that is certainly not against the Afghan people. Indeed, we're engaged in a massive humanitarian effort for the Afghan people. It's against terrorists, pure and simple. " (NBC Today Show)

The War Against Terrorism

➢ Current military operations are focused on achieving several outcomes:

- Making it clear that harboring terrorists carries an unacceptable price;
- Providing humanitarian relief to the oppressed;
- Acquiring intelligence to facilitate future operations;
- Developing relationships with opposition groups within Afghanistan;
- Altering the military balance by denying the Taliban its offensive systems.

➢ There is no silver bullet, no single event or action that is going to suddenly make the threat of terrorism disappear.

- This broad-based and sustained effort – diplomatic, financial, intelligence and military, both overt and covert -- will continue until terrorism is rooted out.
- The situation is similar to the Cold War, when continuous pressure from many nations caused communism to collapse from within.
- We will press the fight as long as it takes. We will prevail.

➢ The world stands united in this effort.

- This is not about any religion, country, or race.
- Our coalition partners represent nations and peoples of all cultures, religions and ethnic groups.
- Dozens of countries contributed to this operation in significant ways.
- We support the Afghan people against al Qaeda, which is a foreign presence on their land.

➢ Statement from October 8, 2001 Interview of Secretary Rumsfeld:

"The purpose of these attacks was to attack, very discreetly, military targets, Taliban and al Qaeda military targets, to create the conditions so that we can engage in a sustained effort to root out those terrorists. It will take time. It is an effort that is certainly not against the Afghan people. Indeed, we're engaged in a massive humanitarian effort for the Afghan people. It's against terrorists, pure and simple. " (NBC Today Show)

THE NATIONAL DIRECTOR FOR COMBATING TERRORISM & THE SPECIAL ADVISOR TO THE PRESIDENT FOR CYBERSPACE SECURITY

National Director & Deputy National Security Advisor for Combating Terrorism
General Wayne Downing (U.S. Army Ret.)

Global terrorism poses a grave danger to the national security of the United States and to the safety of all Americans at home and abroad. Our campaign against terrorism must include military, diplomatic, law enforcement, intelligence, and financial operations in seamless coordination with each other. Many agencies of the federal government are involved in this effort, and close coordination among them is imperative to develop and execute a strategy that draws on and integrates all available resources.

To achieve this policy, the President has established the position of the National Director and Deputy National Security Advisor for Combating Terrorism. The National Director will be the President's principal advisor on matters related to combating global terrorism, including all efforts designed to detect, disrupt, and destroy global terrorist organizations and those who support them.

The National Director will report to the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs. The National Director will also report to the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security with respect to matters relating to global terrorism inside the United States.

Special Advisor to the President for Cyberspace Security
Richard Clarke

The information technology revolution has changed the way business is transacted, government operates, and national defense is conducted. The United States now depends upon a complex, interdependent network of critical infrastructure information systems that are essential to our national and economic security. These networks include information systems in the government, telecommunications, banking and finance, transportation, energy, manufacturing, water, health and emergency services networks.

The United States must protect against the disruption of the operation of these systems. Any disruption that occurs must be infrequent, of minimal duration, manageable, and cause the least possible damage.

The President's Special Advisor for Cyberspace Security will coordinate interagency efforts to secure information systems. In the event of a disruption, the Special Advisor will coordinate efforts to restore critical systems.

The Special Advisor will work in close coordination and partnership with the private sector, which owns and operates the vast majority of America's critical infrastructure. The Special Advisor will be the President's principal advisor on matters related to cyberspace security and report to the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security and to the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs.

The Special Advisor will also serve as chairman of a government-wide board that will coordinate the protection of critical information systems (the President is expected to sign an Executive Order soon establishing the board).

FACT SHEET

THE NATIONAL DIRECTOR FOR COMBATING TERRORISM & THE SPECIAL ADVISOR TO THE PRESIDENT FOR CYBERSPACE SECURITY

National Director & Deputy National Security Advisor for Combating Terrorism
General Wayne Downing (U.S. Army Ret.)

Global terrorism poses a grave danger to the national security of the United States and to the safety of all Americans at home and abroad. Our campaign against terrorism must include military, diplomatic, law enforcement, intelligence, and financial operations in seamless coordination with each other. Many agencies of the federal government are involved in this effort, and close coordination among them is imperative to develop and execute a strategy that draws on and integrates all available resources.

To achieve this policy, the President has established the position of the National Director and Deputy National Security Advisor for Combating Terrorism. The National Director will be the President's principal advisor on matters related to combating global terrorism, including all efforts designed to detect, disrupt, and destroy global terrorist organizations and those who support them.

The National Director will report to the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs. The National Director will also report to the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security with respect to matters relating to global terrorism inside the United States.

Special Advisor to the President for Cyberspace Security
Richard Clarke

The information technology revolution has changed the way business is transacted, government operates, and national defense is conducted. The United States now depends upon a complex, interdependent network of critical infrastructure information systems that are essential to our national and economic security. These networks include information systems in the government, telecommunications, banking and finance, transportation, energy, manufacturing, water, health and emergency services networks.

The United States must protect against the disruption of the operation of these systems. Any disruption that occurs must be infrequent, of minimal duration, manageable, and cause the least possible damage.

The President's Special Advisor for Cyberspace Security will coordinate interagency efforts to secure information systems. In the event of a disruption, the Special Advisor will coordinate efforts to restore critical systems.

The Special Advisor will work in close coordination and partnership with the private sector, which owns and operates the vast majority of America's critical infrastructure. The Special Advisor will be the President's principal advisor on matters related to cyberspace security and report to the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security and to the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs.

The Special Advisor will also serve as chairman of a government-wide board that will coordinate the protection of critical information systems (the President is expected to sign an Executive Order soon establishing the board).
